The Warehouse District is the Spot!

Neighborhood:	Warehouse District
Status:	Ongoing re-development
Parish:	Orleans
Population Status:	Continued significant growth

808 Baronne benefits from a location in one of the calmer blocks of the historic Warehouse District in New Orleans, and is only steps away from world-renowned restaurants including award winning restaurants, Peche, Herbsaint, and Marcello's. Nearby Julia Street is also the most sought after location for art gallery occupancy, and is also only blocks from the museum district, including the National World War II Museum. There has been significant new development underway in the immediate neighborhood, and major market anchors like the new Rouse's grocery store and South Market District continue to solidify the Warehouse District as a nationally known and premier neighborhood for both locals and tourists alike. The outlook for continued growth and rent appreciation in this market is very strong.
